High Shrimers Here.

J. H. Gaut of Lewiston, Idaho, past eminent commander of the Idaho grand commandery, and T. M. Fleming of Lewiston, grand high priest of the Idaho grand chapter, are in Pendleton today enroute home from the convention in Boise. Mr. Gaut is visiting J. R. Robinson who, more than 30 years ago, sent him to Lewiston to fill a job he had been offered there. While at the Boise convention, Mr. Gaut was presented with a beautiful jeweled emblem of the order by the grand commandery.

Hikers Are Decorated.

The three Portland high school boys, who are hiking to New York and who have spent several days here, left this morning for La Grande. Before leaving they were decorated with big Round-up buttons furnished by Major Lee Moorhouse.

Tailman Will Not Run.

Preparing for Bulk Grain.

That quite a few local farmers are preparing to handle their grain in bulk this year is indicated by sales of portable elevators and storage tanks. Within the past day or two the following sales have been made by McClellan & Simpson, to John Mumm, Clinton & Simpson, to John Mumm, a portable elevator, Shumway Cross, portable elevator and steel tanks, Henry Struve, steel tanks. The tanks sold are corrugated galvanized tanks.

tion and, if the vote is light, the weather will bear no part of the responsibility.

Chief interest in the county election centers in the bond issue and in the district attorneyship though the fight for the county clerkship, the treasurer's office and the office of coroner all claim considerable attention. In the state the principal interest is in the Olcott-Moore race for secretary of state. There is much interest in eastern Oregon over the public service commissionership.

Owing to the fact that the polls do not close until 8 o'clock it will be 3:30 perhaps before any returns are secured.

PACIFIC COAST STATES TO HELP FEED WAR SUFFERERS

ORDER FOR 30,000 TONS OF GRAIN IS PLACED FOR EARLY DELIVERY.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—A wartime story presenting the features of Pacific Coast food supplies for the allies, scarcity of ships and astonishing cost of ocean transport developed in the practically completed arrangements of the Marcellus and Liverpool purchases through George W. Luce and W. B. Barnwell, of the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads, to have delivered 30,000 tons of grain by the end of July 30,000 tons of coast grain, mostly barley.

The cost of transportation is to exceed the value of the grain. The latter is worth in the market today $1.10,000. It will cost $40 a ton for delivery, or $1,200,000. The two railroads receive $8 a ton for the haul to Galveston, or $240,000. The ocean carriage amounts to $32 a ton, or a total of $960,000.

Mr. Barnwell and Mr. Luce, who are the freight traffic chiefs of their railroads, are now in the east closing the transportation deal, which is considered one of the oddest since the European war opened.

PIED PIPER DAY TO BE TREAT FOR THE CHILDREN AT FAIR

OFFICIALS OF SAN DIEGO EXPO- SITION ARRANGE EVENT FOR MAY 27.

Pied Piper Day at the Panama California International Exposition Saturday, May 27 is to be one of the most novel days for kiddies ever given by an exposition. Every child that appears on the lawn in front of the beautiful west entrance to the exposition at 11 o'clock on Pied Piper Day will be greeted by the Pied Piper in person, and after a formal ceremony, this mysterious old fellow will lead the kiddies over the great exposition bridge and into the wonderland where the thousands of children will be his guests for an entire day.

As many Pied Piper traditions as possible will be observed. When the piper makes his appearance before the thousands of children on the lawn they will be in the midst of a revel attended by the famous old mayor of Hamelin town, the council and city officials. Children dancers will be entertaining, and everyone will be celebrating the fact that Hamelin town has been rid of the rats. Suddenly the piper will appear from the canyon and demand his reward for leading every rat from the city, and into the river.

When the mayor and council refuse the piper's claim and insist that their offer was merely a joke, the mysterious stranger will play a few notes on his pipe, will beckon the children on the lawn, and will lead them through the exposition gates where a mountain is waiting to swallow them for an entire day's pleasure. Unlike the story told by Brownie, the children will be restored to their parents before sundown, but not until they have been given the best entertainment the Pied Piper can command from every exposition department.

Scores of motion picture cameras are to film the kiddies and their day's sport, and one enterprising con-
